

SEEN, HEARD
AND TOLD

When your papa goes to his Father, his children think of mama. A mother goes thru the shadow of death to bring a husband's children into the world and suffers more grief than mere words can express when the love of her life enters into eternal life. Of our mother it truly can be said: mama has been a good, loving, understanding and complete, devoted wife.

Mama has been a great factor in any success papa might have attained. For papa and mama were truly one. The last word papa uttered was "mama". They loved each other most dearly in life and we feel sure this love will last as long as God lives, that is, thru eternity.

Papa said the other day he would not mind going so much if he could take mama with him. But in his heart he wanted mama to stay that she might guide Andrew, Dorothy, Carolyn and Whyte Jr. along a path that we have not yet the wisdom to walk.

Papa was a good father to us children.

Since spring mama has worked her heart out caring for papa and running the Grenada County Weekly and the Oxberry farm. We children think she has done a good job.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Grimes have been very kind and helpful to us, all the way through. We are truly grateful to this nice, thorough and kind man and woman.

Bare with us for a few weeks. Mama will be back on Green Street running the GCW soon. Papa has often said he did not want the paper he and mama found and worked so hard to make what success it might have attained, die. God willing, it shall not die so long as mama lives.

Let us, the Whitaker family, say we thank and love those of you who have been most kind and helpful during the lingering illness and death of Papa.

—The Whitakers.

A lot of folks have paid their subscriptions lately. And to them, we say thanks!!

Sp3 William Moss will get the G. C. W. at Ft. Bragg, N. C. His mother came in and subscribed for him.

James B. Keeton Laid To Rest In Woodlawn Park

A heart attack early Saturday morning claimed the life of James Benton Keeton, district agent of Lamar Life Insurance Company.

A prominent business man and civic leader, Mr. Keeton was born in Grenada County October 12, 1887, and married the former Miss Gertrude Draper of Ackerman in 1924.

He served as postmaster of Grenada several years and held the position of Grenada County Chancery Clerk from 1920 to 1924. During World War I, he was with the A.E.F. in France.

Mr. Keeton helped organize and was the first commander of the local American Legion Post. He was a Mason and held memberships in Rotary and a number of civic and social organizations. He was an active member of First Baptist Church.

A host of friends and business associates from all parts of the South attended funeral services conducted at First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, with Dr. John W. Landrum, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park under direction of Garner Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were William McCormick, R. F. McCormick, Benton Keeton, James Draper, M. S. Draper, and Grady Draper.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Keeton leaves a sister, Mrs. R. H. McCormick of Grenada and a number of nieces and nephews.

"BROTHER" IS GONE

By Ellett Lawrence

I cannot remember the time when my friendship with Whyte began. I do remember that when I was seven and Whyte was twelve, that I felt when I should reach Whyte's twelve, my ambition to be a man would be realized. Mrs. Blanche Mattingly, who at one time lived next door to the Whitakers, stated that Whyte woke them up every morning when he would go into his backyard and yell at the top of his voice — "Ellett."

We knew — and this knowledge was a deep secret — where every chestnut tree, every muscadine vine and every fishing spot was in the western part of Grenada County. For some reason we never roamed across Bogue to the East. On week ends many times we rode our horses to Oxberry to visit in the home of the late Mr. J. W. Wood and "Aunt Mag." We would sleep in an out-house, a most comfortable place with two beds; get up around 3:00 a. m. and ride through the "bottom" to White or Mosquito Lake. Whyte would never throw back a perch no matter how small. He would say "If they are big enough to bite, they are big enough to eat." And, his creed was the pockets of his overalls.

Whyte was a master at getting the things he was supposed to do himself around the house, done by Henry and Clarence Orman, and George Terrell. He always declared he never was able to get me to do much. The kindling he had to cut, the coal he had to bring in, the garden he had to work, the cow and horse he had to feed, was all done by his little friends.

I can remember that when he went off to Georgia Tech that I felt like he was gone forever and I was a most unhappy kid. And, I can remember when he came back that he was wearing a collar (they were stiff in those days) about three inches high with a bright red tie about one inch wide. And, as I had never seen him wear a collar before I knew that the thing for me to do was to go and get me a high collar and the same kind of red tie.

Whyte was a good influence on me younger boys. I can remember once when I had called him a name (which was taboo in the South). Whyte put me across his knees and spanked the pants off me. And, explaining that he spanked me because I should never call anyone by that name. I did not get mad and I have never to this day—at least to a man's face—called anyone what I called Whyte that day. Whyte set us a good example. And, as I look back now, his example was not conscious. He simply believed in fair play and had no inclination to do or say anything that was low brow. His principles then, and always, were high.

On graduation from Georgia Tech, Whyte, and a school friend, went into business in Florida. This venture did not succeed, mostly because neither boy had the necessary capital.

I ate just about as many meals with Whyte in his home as I did in my own home. Good meals too!! I thought them so much better than those I had at home. I broke my leg (horse stepped in a hole in the old "dump" during high water and fell on my right leg). And, Whyte gave up his room to me and I stayed in that room for six or eight weeks. When I was able to get up Whyte hitched my pony to a buggy and took me for a ride. We got about a mile out of town and the pony, not used to being hitched to a buggy, began to cut up rough and had the buggy on two wheels, and there I was, couldn't get out. Whyte got out and filled the buggy with rocks (and me) and led us back to town. He said if she would not pull the buggy with his weight, she would have to pull even more weight, hence the rocks. Quite a character was Whyte, an enviable character.

I can recall his discussing with me the matter of whether he should enlist or be drafted for service in the First World War. I went with him when he enlisted. It was along about this time that he, for the first and last time, fell in love. I was assisting my father in the old Grenada Sentinel then and I kept standing in type to run every week at the head of the social column "Whyte Whitaker spent Monday night in Water Valley." The only change in the other six items was to change the days of the week.

I was the only one from Grenada at his wedding to Mabel Erikson in the Erikson home. I can remember in buying the license, I did not know how to spell Erikson.

I recall a letter from Whyte, written in France, telling me he would have paid me $50,000.00 for my crippled leg. He had married and wanted to get out of the army and come home to his family, which by then consisted of three members. Whyte, Jr. was born while he was in France. And, when he came back he told me that Whyte, Jr. did not seem to know him very well.

Whyte farmed his father's acres (dates have never meant anything to me), until my brother, Malcolm, was killed in an automobile accident. And I persuaded him to take over the editing of the Grenada Sentinel. This he did, but still lived in the country. But, due to the fact that his children

W. W. WHITAKER, GRENADA COUNTY WEEKLY EDITOR, PUBLISHER IS CLAIMED

The death of William Whyte Whitaker, publisher and editor of the Grenada County Weekly, removed from our midst one of the South's most colorful members of the Fourth Estate, a man whose wit and wisdom was reflected in his writings through his many years of newspapering and which won nationwide prominence in the annals of his profession.

His passing at 8 o'clock last evening at his residence on South Street ended a long and distressing illness which had prevented him from his regular and usual chores at the newspaper office since April of this year.

Funeral Thursday

Funeral services for Mr. Whitaker will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at First Presbyterian Church of Grenada of which he was a member. The Reverend John W. Young of Morgan City, Miss., a boyhood friend of the deceased and a former Grenada Councillor, will officiate at the rites with interment in Odd Fellows Cemetery under direction of The Garner Bros. Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Bert Bays, Henry Ray, Jr., Juel Batson, Donald Lockett, David Dubard and William Semmes.

Honorary pallbearers will be J. K. Avent, Sr., Dr. Morris Isaacson, Hubert Calhoun, W. C. Trotter of Oxford, Bryan Baker, Sr., John Bradley, A. M. Carothers, Clayton Carpenter, W. H. Crowder, Jim Cuff, Fred Daily, L. J. Doak, Dr. F. S. Hill, Ed Holcomb and Fulton McRee of Holcomb, Durrow Horn, Sr., Jim Horn, Hurd Horton, Tom Meek, G. S. Kent, Earl Dennis, H. J. Ray, Sr., Keene Huffington, Jack Sanderson, Ed Underwood, Eli Whitaker, Homer Williams, William Wright, Herman Heath, E. M. Grimes.

W. E. Jackson, Louis Dubard, Sr., Bill Lomax, John Lake, J. H. Neely, Sr., O. R. Lilly, Sr., J. B. Perry, Jr., Avent, McElwraith, J. C. Hathorn, and E. C. Staten of Oxberry.

Friends may call at the funeral home until 1:30 Thursday afternoon, one hour preceding the church services.

Although he was unable to regularly write his column, "Seen, Heard and Told" in his beloved Grenada County Weekly since he was stricken in April, when he felt able he would dictate pertinent paragraphs to his devoted wife, Mabel, who has been constant at his bedside and devoted to his welfare throughout their union. His final personal column was written and headed "By W.W.W. Sr., At Home" as late as September 15 which attests to his devotion to duty and determination to "do the job" and until his fatal attack, a coronary thrombosis, last week, he maintained an interest in events connected with his family, his friends and business.

Native Of County

"Whyte" Whitaker, as he was familiarly known to hundreds of friends here and throughout the South, was a native of Grenada County. He was born on the Whitaker Plantation "Walnut Grove", near Oxberry (Beat 5) July 5, 1889. He was the son of the late Dr. William Henry Whitaker and Evie Hall Whitaker, also natives of this county. Whyte was reared as an only child, his sister, Laura having died at the age of fourteen months.

Often "Whyte" recounted his college days at Georgia Tech and his experience there and close companionship with the late Coach "Alex" Alexander, whom he had as a room-mate. Mr. Whitaker graduated from the School of Engineering at Georgia Tech where he was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. After graduation he was employed with a major construction company at Tullulah Falls, Georgia.

Mr. Whitaker's World War One record included services as Regiment Sergeant Major of the home company (Hq. Co.), 140th Field Artillery.

It was on May 9, 1918, that he was united in marriage to Miss Mabel Erikson of Water Valley, who survives. To their union four children were born: William Whyte Whitaker, Jr., and Andrew Donelson Whitaker, both of Grenada; Mrs. Dorothy Whitaker Stevenson of Sacramento Calif., and Mrs. Caroline Whitaker Eads of Baton Rouge, La., all of whom survive.

His pride and joy, in addition to his own immediate family, were his seven grandchildren: Shirley May Whitaker, Andrea Donelson Whitaker of Grenada; John, Emily, Amy and Abbie Leif Eads of Baton Rouge, La., and Laura Leif Stevenson of Sacramento, Calif.

Sixth Generation

Whyte's grandchildren represent the sixth generation of Whitakers in Grenada County. His great grandfather, Wm.

Henry Whitaker formerly owned the property where Grenada County Court House now stands. His great grandmother, Mary Whyte Whitaker of Nashville, Tenn., was the daughter of Supreme Court Justice Robert Whyte of Nashville and Washington, D. C.

Grandparents of Mr. Whitaker were Major Alexander Whyte Whitaker and Caroline Minerva Donelson of Nashville, Tenn. She was the daughter of Col. John Donelson of Nashville and later of Pine Bluff, Ark. Mr. Whitaker was a great nephew of Mrs. Andrew Jackson of Hermitage, Tenn. His maternal grandparents were Capt. Richard Hall, twice sheriff of Grenada County, also former postmaster of Grenada, and Sarah Terrell Hall, a member of a prominent pioneer family of this county.

Many Activities

The deceased editor was a Mason, a Shriner, and a member of the Presbyterian Church. He was a Rotary Club member prior to his resignation due to ill health. He was a member of the Grenada County Board of Supervisors, 1928, 32, and Grenada Board of Aldermen from May, 1936, to September, 1940 when he resigned because of his health. He was a member of the V.F.W. and the American Legion.

Mr. Whitaker devoted the greater part of his business life to being an editor. His knowledge of the historical background of Grenada County and this area formed much of the subject-matter he wrote for his newspaper.

Following his affiliation with the Grenada Sentinel, many years and his close friendship with Ellett Lawrence, a former Grenada newspaperman who now resides in Greenwood, Mr. Whitaker established his own newspaper the Grenada County Weekly in 1937, which continues owned and operated by his family.

Retired Last Year

Due to failing health, Mr. Whitaker retired from his publisher post of the Grenada County Weekly in July, 1954 and carried his name as "contributor" on the mast head of his weekly. His wife, Mabel is now publisher and joint-owner of the newspaper and his son, Andrew is mechanical superintendent.

All through the years, Mr. Whitaker has been an ardent fisherman. After retirement he devoted many leisure hours with friends fishing along the creek and river banks of the area and later at Grenada Lake. He was a charter member of the Grenada County Wildlife League.

Although widely known in this area and the South, Mr. Whitaker also is known throughout the United States for his unique style of writing, his articles spiced with wisdom and roused individualism. As Ellett Lawrence writes of the deceased editor, "His writings often made sensitive people squirm, only to be dismissed by the editor with a good natured grin or witticism."

There are almost as many Mosses as there are Lots.

The World Series has about ended at the Grenada Fire Department.

We are extremely grateful to our many friends who have been so thoughtful and kind during Mr. Whitaker's illness.

Most people don't think much of sickness and death, until it gets close to home!

Our man, Mr. Austin, doesn't get mad at Fred Dalley for calling him "J. Fred". He just calls Mr. Dalley, "J. Fred" right back.

I think John Bradley has fapigled around and secured a dock for the Grenada County Wildlife League.

Jesus Is Baptized

Lesson for October 16, 1955

THERE is one notable day the church does not celebrate. We have a day for the birth of Jesus, one for his presentation in the Temple, a whole season (Lent) to recall his temptations, a day for the crucifixion, the resurrection, the ascension. But for remembering his baptism, no day is set aside. So it is well that the Sunday schools should do what the church does not do; for the baptism of Jesus was one of the most important events in his life. The reason why the church does not care to celebrate this event, may be that Dr. Foreman the church does not know quite what it means. We know what other Christian festivals mean—Pentecost Sunday, Christmas, Good Friday and so on. But what does the baptism of Jesus mean?

Surely Not for His Sins

The heart of the difficulty is just this: Jesus was baptized by John, and John's baptism, we read over and over again, was a baptism of repentance. So we can put the dilemma this way: Was this baptizing of Jesus also a baptism of repentance, and if so, what could he have had to repent of? Or was it altogether different, and if so, then what did it mean if it did not mean repentance? Since the Bible does not answer this question clearly, and since the church has no standard or "orthodox" explanation, perhaps the best thing this column can do is to run over a few answers to that question: Why was Jesus baptized? The reader is invited to think about these and take his choice. One answer, which has three forms, the church has thought about, but generally has not taken seriously. It is the theory that Jesus was baptized, like every one else there at the Jordan, in token of repentance for sin. One extreme form of this theory is that Jesus repented of his own sins. Only a person who thinks of Jesus as an ordinary man could believe that, and the church does not believe it. Another form of this idea is that Jesus repented of his sinful nature; the idea being that if it had a really human nature it must have been a sinful one even if he never sinned. (Just as one may have a weak constitution that never breaks down.) This again the church has overwhelmingly opposed.

"To Fulfill All Righteousness"

Jesus himself gave a reason for being baptized. The trouble is, he did not explain what he meant. He said he did it "to fulfill all righteousness." (Matthew 3:15). It is quite plain that he meant he would not be doing right if he were not baptized. But just what does "fulfilling all righteousness" mean? The explanation most widely accepted in the church is that being baptized was part of the Jewish law at the time, and that Jesus as a loyal Jew observed this as he observed other laws of his religion. There are two weak spots in this theory. One is that there is little or no evidence that baptizing or being baptized was a regular religious observance among the Jews, and the other is that Jesus did not feel obligated to keep strictly all the laws, otherwise he would hardly have had the attitude toward the Sabbath which we know he had.

Friend of Sinners

Still another explanation which is impressing a large number of Christians today, is that Christ, by insisting on being baptized, over John's protests that he did not need it, in a dramatic way was taking the side of sinners. We think of Jesus taking our part and representing us on the Cross. But, it is asked, when did Jesus first identify himself with sinners? Not until his last Friday morning? On the contrary, the suggestion is that Christ there at the Jordan had the opportunity to take his place, publicly and for all to see, either with those who despised sinners and made it hard for them and were proud of themselves, or with those who by being baptized were honest enough to confess their sins and to express their deep desire to be rid of them. So Jesus identifies himself once and for all with the repentant—not that he himself needed to repent, but to show that the repentant are his people. First to last, he was the Friend of Sinners.

60 Years Ago A Mississippian Was Hanged For Killing

A Negro

(By Dorothy Mary Whitaker)

The following was written in reply to an article in the CA back in 1960. The Press-Scimitar made a similar statement a few weeks ago, that no white man had ever been executed for killing a Negro in Mississippi. The story follows:

Grenada, Miss., March 13, 1906—Reports in the press that a white man has never been executed in Mississippi for the slaying of a Negro are untrue, according to Grenada County files here.

The question arose in connection with the trial next week of Windol and Malcomb Whitt and Leon Turner at Kosciusko, where they are charged with the "revenge massacre" of three Negro children the night of Jan. 9. The state is expected to ask the death penalty.

The Grenada County files show that in March 1890, Mel I. Cheatham, a white storekeeper living near Grenada, was hanged in the Courthouse yard by Deputy Sheriff Francis Wright, supervised by Sheriff Pesky Jones, after being convicted of the murder of a Negro named Jim Tillman on August 3, 1889. A Negro named Jim Laymon was given a life sentence for his part in the slaying. The record does not disclose the motive.

Thrown Into River

The state charged that Cheatham, assisted by Laymon, attacked the victim, tied a stone and a big chain to him, and tossed him into the Yalo

NEW WORLD'S RECORD CORN YIELD SET

A new world's record of 304.38 bushels of corn per acre has been made this year by Lamar Ratliff, 16 year old Prentiss County 4-H Club member.

Lamar's variety was Funk's G-711. The rows were 30 inches apart with stalks eight inches apart in the drill.

He fertilized the acre with 1,000 pounds of 14-14-14 mixed fertilizer and 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate under the crop, and 800 pounds of ammonium nitrate as side dressing.

Lamar plowed the corn twice and no irrigation was practiced. Lamar says Funk's G-711 is the best corn he ever planted.

Public Invited To National Affairs Forum November 10th

The general public is invited to attend and participate in the fifth statewide national affairs forum in Jackson on November 10th. The forum will be held in the Central High School Auditorium, just across the street from the Robert E. Lee Hotel, beginning at 1:45 p.m.

Former Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia, famed for his wit and love for southern traditions, will keynote the forum. Fred B. Smith, Ripley attorney and MEC vice-president, will moderate the question and answer period. Members of the panel will be the state's congressional delegation: Senators James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis, and Congressmen Thomas G. Abernethy, William Colmer, Frank Smith, Jamie L. Whitten, John Bell Williams, and Arthur Winstead.

The free forum, promoted in the interest of understanding national problems and issues, attracts leaders from over the entire state. The MEC national affairs committee is headed by Conwell Sykes, Greenville banker. Oscar O. Wolfe, Jr., of Duncan, is chairman of the forum committee.

Due to the death of Editor Whit- we are having to omit most all our aker, on Tuesday night of this week, social items.

If You Have Loved the Forest, Be Careful of Fire

Examine the cartoon above and the following editorial by Assistant Editor Ben Hur Latham of the Portland Oregonian.

"If you have loved the glimpse of a doe and a fawn in the bracken at morning, when the mists rise out of the little valley; and the resonant call of the grouse in the sentinel firs; and the sad sweetness of wild pigeons calling one to another; and the wood duck low to the water; and the red rabbit that comes to the sand bar at dawn, out of the black-berry tangle—if you have loved all these, and love them still, be careful of fire in the forest.

"If you have loved the deep, cool shadows of noon, with a hawk circling; the charmed stillness of the drowsy woodland, smelling of fern and resin and berry; and a peace that flows outward and inward, like a great pulse in harmony; and the knowledge that there is no urgency, nor ever has been; and a pendant vine drooping with purple berries—if you have one time loved these, and had dealing from them, be careful of fire in the forest.

"If you have loved the lengthening shadows that come from the forest at evening, when the deer steal forth again, and the plumed quail; the awareness that at twilight the near hills draw nearer; if you have loved, in that listening stillness, the splash of a fine trout rising, or a sea-run salmon ascending the river; the assurance, some how, that you are not alien to the trees, to the even-wood hugs!

"When you hear de win' hummin' in de pine
Hit makes a tune dat sounds, mighty fine
De big pine trees are makin' dat soun',
Talkin' to dere babies close to de groun'—
Lil' pine babies growin' down below—
Gotta help dem babies if dey's gine a-grow!

"When you hear de big, ole pine trees moan,
Dere's a fire in de woods, dat makes de mgroan.
De little fire kills de lil' baby trees,
De grass and de birds, but no wee vils or fleas.
De big fire kills big trees too—
We gotta stop fires, whatever we do!!!

Pay-day's comin' while de pine trees grow,

When de ole piney wood ain' heah no moah

The public is cordially invited to attend.

FOX FAMILY DESCENDENTS TO HOLD REUNION OCTOBER 16

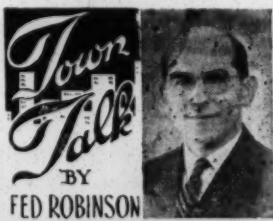

Announcement is being made of a reunion of the Fox generation now living, to be held at Grenada Lake on Sunday, October 16, 1955.

Henry Fox, Sr. was born in South Carolina in 1768, and died in Calhoun City the year the county was organized, 1812. His wife, Sarah, was born in South Carolina in 1772 and died in 1859. They migrated through Tennessee and Alabama, and came to Mississippi about 1825, where they lived until their deaths. They were buried in the old Fox cemetery, about 2 miles south of Slate Springs.

Children, thirteen in number, were born to this couple. Most of these came to Mississippi with their parents, or followed later, and reared families here.

The descendants of these pioneer parents are the Foxes, Pryors, Spencers, Hughes, Greggs, Dentons, Maccons, Vances, Putmans, Houses, McPhalls, Shaws, Griffins, Davises, Ponderers, Faucetts, Wests, Malloys, Cooks, Ligons, and many more of the 6th and 7th generations are now living and hope to meet with the family descendants at Grenada Lake on October 16th.

An interesting program will begin at 10 a. m.

Sorry to miss our visit last week but the old work schedule had piled up and the old typewriter had to remain behind the closet door throughout the week.

First let us express a word of appreciation to Mrs. Hurd Horton of Grenada for a nice letter of good wishes while I was sick. Her letter was addressed to Little Rock, Ark. but the good postal people forwarded it to me at Pine Bluff. Thank you, Mrs. Elizabeth. You and I and many more know how depressing illness can be.

Heard a good physician the other day giving one of his patients a psychiatric lecture, and this is what he said:

"A person's whole life is made up with little experiences. Some will pass completely out of mind - as they should - but other experiences, especially the unpleasant ones, will often linger on and "pick" at your mind and heart. Soft tender skinned people will not need to look very far to find people and experiences who irritate you. People are not always kind or considerate of others and one must be prepared to throw off those little hurts, little sneers and build up within a resistance to all envy and jealousy. The best way to build a happy and peaceful state of mind is to fill your heart so full of tolerance of the weaknesses of others and fill your heart so full of love and forgiveness that no one can hurt you and none of the unpleasant every-day happenings can get inside of you, and following this schedule you will soon find your mind will am down, and your nervousness will disappear. - - - Well, the doctor said more than that but that's the gist of it. So think on that a little please and let us try to do all the things we can to live happy and active lives while there is still time.

Overheard at a bus station: A woman saying, "Oh, dear I'm miserable. I've got on my sitting-down shoes and my standing-up girdle."

One felt not another feller on the street and one says: "Mike I haven't seen you in years. What kind of woman did you marry?" "Why, I married an angel, a perfect angel!" The other one said "well, that certainly was a break. The woman I married is still living."

Delayed announcements of birthdays for October:

Christine Haywood, 3rd; Dr. Frank B. Hays, 4th; Knox Pierce, 4th; Hugh Stanfill, Jr., 4th; (hope you had a happy day Hugh) Sissy Turnipseed, 10th; Sam F. Williams, 5th; Nell Caughman - Sissy's sister, 13th; P. W. Criss, 15th; J. M. Whitaker, 15th; Juel R. Batson, 19th; G. G. Allison, 19th; Strick Stricklin - the big mercantile operator and the best neighbor we ever had, 23rd; Best wishes Strick and Cindy; Ed Nored, 26th; Fortune: "You are sympathetic, kind, generous and loyal. You are loved by all who know you. Your lucky months are August and December and Friday is your lucky day."

(Note to Ada's friends: Ada has just returned home from the hospital where she received rest and treatment for about a week. She will be writing you soon.) -Fed.

Five Acre Farm Forest Contest

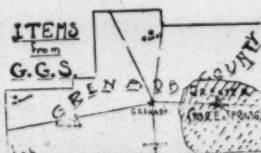

(by Jim Cann, Project Forester)

The Sears-Roebuck Foundation & the Mississippi Forestry Association are sponsoring a state-wide five acre forestry contest.

Farm operators as well as owners are eligible. The contest will close September 15, 1956. At that time judging will be on the following: planting or establishing a stand, protection from fire and overgrazing, timber stand improvement and harvesting to assure a continuous production.

Contestants will be furnished a sign to display. Each county winner will receive an all-expense tour of important forestry and wood-using enterprises, in addition to a recognition dinner at Jackson, Mississippi. In addition, each county winner will receive a key and each district winner a plaque.

Information, entry blanks and assistance can be obtained by contacting the Mississippi Forest Commission or the U. S. Forest Service Project Forester in Grenada.

Balanced Running-Passing Game Played By Starkville Jackets; Defeat Grenada Bulldogs 33-7

By Hugh Ketchum

Continuing their ramble to ward a repeat as Little Ten Champions the Starkville Yellow Jackets rolled over the Grenada Bulldogs, 33 to 7, Friday night at Starkville. The Jackets used a balanced running and passing game to turn back the local eleven, counting three times on the ground and twice through the air.

Grenada played the favored Yellow Jackets down to the wire in the first half, giving up two touchdowns to the aerial attack after the spirited Bulldogs had stopped the powerful Starkville single wing running attack, and scoring once themselves to trail 14 to 7 at the rest period. However, a disastrous third quarter, which saw the Yellow Jackets cover four Bulldogs fumbles and turn three of them into touchdowns changed the course of the game and let the conference champs win going away.

Though the Bulldogs did a fine job of stopping the one-two running punch of Bobby Neal and George Self, particularly in the first half, they could not cope with the balanced offense of their running and Neal's passing. In the meantime the Bulldogs made one offensive move in the first quarter then failed to threaten again.

Neal scored two touchdowns and passed for another while Self counted once on a line plunge. Neal's running was good for 68 yards and Self exploded the line for a total of 77 yards, but the Jacket passing game was good for another 119 yards on nine completions in 14 tries. The Bulldogs, led by Hayes Branscome, who shouldered the offensive burden under Shafer Spence was removed from the game on a personal foul just before the half, accounted for 112 yards on the ground and only seven through the air.

Jackets Count First

The Yellow Jackets opened the scoring by taking the opening kick-off at the 35-yard line and chewing up 65 yards 15 plays. The Bulldogs made them fight for every yard as Neal and Self alternated plugs at the line to move the ball to the 10. Two line plays netted nothing at that point then Larry Bell flipped to Mickey McKell who made a fine diving catch in the end zone for the score. Kenny Nason kicked the point and it appeared the rout was on.

The Bulldogs came right back and moved 72 yards in 13 plays to knot the count. They took the kick-off at the 28 to start the drive. Spence and Jackie Todd reeled off nice gains to roll up three first downs to the Starkville 40 as the first period ended. Two penalties on pass interference helped move the ball to the Jacket one from where Todd blasted over and Spence wheeled right end for the point.

Starkville took the following kick-off at the 28 and went all the way in five plays as Neal completed three passes to Eugene Keller, the last completion going for 44 yards and the touchdown. Nason again kicked the point and the half ended with the Jackets in front, 14 to 7.

Four Fumbles Lost

The third period nightmare saw the Bulldogs handle the ball on offense exactly nine times, four of which were fumbles covered by the Yellow Jackets deep in Grenada territory. Three of the bobbles set up quick touchdowns for the Starkville powerhouse, then the Jacket reserves took over to play most of the final period.

The first bobble came on the third play of the second half at the Grenada 32. Six plays later Self powered left guard for the tally. On the first play after the following kick-off Sheely covered another fumble at the 43. On the fourth play Neal broke away for 27 yards and a touch-down. The last play of the third period saw Garrard cover the fourth Grenada bobble on the 13-yard line. Neal went over right end for seven and the touchdown on the second play of the final quarter.

The lineup follows: Grenada, Ends, James Lawrence, Jim Brasfield, Marvin Dattle and Gerald Carter; Tackles, Charles Ferrill, Tom Carroll, Jerry Fowler and Gerald Campbell; Guards, Jimmy Quinn, James Gray; Center, Roy Edwards; Backs, Sam Ricks, Shafer Spence, Hayes Branscome, Gary Geeslin, Buddy Lott, John Criss and Jackie Todd.

Starkville, Ends, Stacy, Ford, Keller, McKell and Sheely; Tackles, Langley, Hoover, Reese and Reynolds; Guards, Gerrard, Hendley, Clapp and Mellwain, Centers, Cunningham, Moore and Egger; Backs, Bell, McReynolds, Nason, Jones, Self, Neal Hoover and Smith.

The Bulldogs have an open date this week. The next game will be at Proby Field on Friday Oct. 21, against the Oxford Colonels.

Soil Conservation News (By Rex R. Blue, SCS)

NewCooperators of the Grenada County Soil Conservation District are David Halle, Gore Springs; Geo. Davis and Louvenia Williams, Grenada; and J. G. Carter, Spears. These farmers will be furnished land capability maps for their farms and will be assisted in carrying out soil and water conservation practices on their farms.

Lewis Bowdry, colored farmer, has constructed approximately one and one half miles of V and W type ditches and one-half mile of diversion terraces on his farm east of Grenada. The ditches will provide drainage for approximately 60 acres of bottomland.

Stock ponds have been completed recently on the farms of S. E. Gillon and A. B. McCormick. The ponds were staked and checked by Soil Conservation Service personnel.

A number of District Cooperators attended the sod seeding demonstration held at Clear Creek Ranch.

Last week, E. T. Evans, Flood Prevention Farm Planner, brought in a runner of coastal bermuda 18 one-half feet long. The bermuda was planted on a gully plug on the S. E. Mays farm in April.

Are you getting the most from your farm woodland? If not, contact your local forester. Farmers interested in planting steep or eroded areas to pine should make application for seedlings now. A good woodland will slow down run-off, prevent siltation and increase infiltration of water into the soil.

Yusha River during highwater time when the water went down the body was discovered.

The record shows that a jury panel of 40 men all asked to be excused, but finally the court, presided over by Judge Campbell, secured 12 jurors.

The case was taken to the Mississippi Supreme Court and the conviction upheld. After this action, 60 white men in the area signed a petition addressed to Governor Stone asking that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. The petition was denied and Cheatham hanged.

His death certificate was signed by Dr. Frank Smith, a retired dentist now living at Greenwood, where he is a justice of the peace.

VFW POST AND AUXILIARY OPEN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary of Warren E. Campbell Post 4488, opened their annual membership campaign Saturday night with a kickoff supper-party at the Post Home with a large crowd attending.

The evening's program began with J. W. Willis, Jr., Commander of Post 4488, extending a welcome to the members and guests after which Sidney Russell, senior vice commander, Department of Mississippi, spoke briefly and introduced the main speaker, Jeff Williams of Lexington, Department of Mississippi Commander and widely known VFW official in both state and national organization projects.

State Commander Williams commended the Grenada County VFW Post for its growth and urged the members to make renewed effort toward attaining new members, which would bring the present membership of the Grenada Post to at least 600. The current membership is approximately 575 members.

In stressing membership, Mr. Williams recalled a statement made by Evangelist Billy Graham, who spoke at the National Encampment Memorial Services in Boston in August — "I can not see why any man that has served overseas and is eligible for membership in this organization does not belong."

Commander Williams stressed the many civic betterment projects and programs of the VFW in Mississippi and the nation. He said that the VFW alone had contributed more and completed more welfare and community service projects than any other organization of any kind in the United States, during the past year and that it is a matter of record. He urged the members to be alert to community programs which are needed and to work toward the development of their Post, their community, their state.

With enthusiasm, Commander Williams recounted and reviewed the attainments and accomplishments of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here and throughout the nation. In particular, the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, which is for orphans and widows of deceased veterans.

The meeting opened and closed with prayer by the Post Chaplain W. E. Cresswell.

Membership chairmen who will begin the drive for additions to the VFW and Auxiliary rosters are Gordon Logan, Post Sr. Vice Commander and Mrs. Norris Carrigan, Sr. Vice President of the Auxiliary.

Norris Carrigan, Post Adjutant-Quartermaster and Publicity Officer was in charge of collecting dues for continuous members and signing up new members, and reports a successful beginning for the 1966 drive.

Mrs. John W. Goza, chairman of the food committee and her helpers were commended for the delicious fried chicken served preceding the program.

Seated at the speaker's table were State Commander Williams; Post Commander J.

W. Willis, Jr.; State Senior Vice Commander S. W. Russell; Department Chief of Staff and District Auxiliary President Mrs. Sidney Russell and Ladies Auxiliary President Mrs. W. E. Morris.

Brief talks were made by Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Morris, also.

Burglars Caught In "The Act" At Rose Service Station

Sheriff S. L. Davis has placed under arrest Hollis Wages, 29 of Pontotoc and his cousin, Alvin Morphis, 25, Bruce, Miss., who were "caught in the act" of burglarizing the Howard Rose Service Station on Highway 8 East early Saturday morning about 12:30 o'clock.

The two white men, who pried open the door at the Station to gain entrance were unarmed. When apprehended they had a quantity of cigarettes in their possession.

Sheriff Davis praised the quick work of Rose, his wife and father who held the two men captive until the Sheriff arrived to make arrest. The Rose family had retired for the night when they heard noises in the Service Station adjoining their living quarters. A radio-amplifier connection from the station to the Rose home relayed the noises in the station which made possible apprehension of the two men. Sheriff Davis stated He commended the bravery of Mr. Rose, his wife and father for their work in catching the men and holding them at gunpoint.

According to Sheriff Davis, Wages has been in trouble before in Arkansas and served time in the penitentiary there after being sentenced from Washington County, Miss. The sheriff said so far as he knows this is the first offense of Morphis. Both men will be arraigned later this week and bound over to the grand jury. They are now held in Grenada County jail pending arraignment. The sheriff said Wages is also wanted in Pontotoc for investigation on a similar charge.
